Diagnostic Testing of Exotic Species

Our exotic animal species can be challenging to handle when diagnostic testing or procedures need to be performed. On many occasions sedation or general anesthesia is the safest method to obtain important diagnostic testing on our exotic species, especially for radiographs. Every precaution is taken to ensure your pet's safety during any procedure or surgery including anesthetic monitoring and supportive care. However, there are risks involved in sedation or anesthesia. Please consult with your doctor for any concerns you may have.

I hereby authorize the veterinarians at Bird and Pet Clinic of Roseville to perform sedation or anesthesia on my pet for medical or surgical treatment. The nature of the procedure has been explained to me and no guarantee has been made as to results or cure. I understand that there may be risk involved in the procedure.

I agree to pay in full for services rendered including those deemed necessary for medical or surgical complications or unforeseen circumstances.
